DR. A. J. VANDERSLICE.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17, 1849.

THIS is to certify that I have iong been afflicted with the Dropsy, from which I have suffered much bodily as well as mental pain. I have tried many remedies with scarce any benefit, and applied to several eminent physicians, who promised a speedy cure; but, unfortunately, their promises were never realized. I was induced to try Dr. A. J. VANDERSLICE, who soon, by his course of treatment, restored me to health. I am induced to maket in, spublic, in hopes that others unfor tunate may consult him with like success.

Je20 dcwif JOHN JOHNSON, Ja.

This is to certify that Dr. A. J. VANDERSLICE attended my mother, Frances May, in the month of January last, for a severe attack of Rheumatism, and, after the nee of one bottle of Balsam that he gave her, she is at present, and has been since its use, entirely well.

TUESDAY, : : : DECEMBER 30, 1851.

The editor of the Yeoman gives notice that the convention on the 8th of January wil be called upon to endorse his favorite for the of fice of President. Mr. Tanner and a few o his friends may intend to urge the convention to action for their particular benefit; but the majority will have more discretion than to humor Mr. Tanner and gratify their opponents, by going out of their way to get up a contes which has no business in that body.

We know, and so does the editor of the Yeo. ell no indications of a profesence, nor have they authorized the delegates to the convention at Frankfort to express any preference or give any instructions.

Now, in such circumstances, if the conven tion should express a preference, or give instructions, it would be an unauthorized act.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON: [Correspondence of the Louisville Democrat.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20, 1851.

Messrs. Editors: As I predicted in my last, the compromise resolution of Gen. Foote has not yet passed the Senate; but we have had which richly compensate us for the time taken adjourned over on Thursday last till Monday Foote. Had there been no discussion, the Senate could have adjourned over till Monday; so the sticklers for time have no reason to complain at all. Whether Congress is employed to me. on Foote's resolution, or anything else, is of very little consequence, so far as the business ent servant, of the session is concerned-no business having ever been done, as far as I can recollect, till after the holidays.

It is not always the man himself; but those who lead him and who have him in his keeping-who shape his course, and become responsible for his actions.

That there has been, from the commence ment of the present session, a regular coalition between the old free-soilers of the Van Buren of Mr. Buchanan, is apparent, not only from his mediation in behalf of her young son, in the action of the democratic caucus, and the duced by poverty and inexperience to take part in this criminal enterprise.

S. F. Bennett—Dear Sir: I purchased a short time ago bottle of your Yellow Dock and Sarsapatilla for my fet, which she has used for her compaint, Erysapelas d Weakness, Falling of the Womb, etc., and it has eady heiped her very much. Of the Erysipelas it seffected nearly a cure. I have just purchased a secd bottle, and judging from the effect of the former, el confident that I will effect a perfect cure.

Yours, very respectfully,

N. COBURN.

Cure of an aggravated case of Erystpelas The cures performed by Dr. Guysott's Extract of Yel ow Dock and Sarsaparilla are lasting. The patient's general health continues to improve after disease is re moved. Cures are not chronicled until time has fully sted that there can be no relapse or return of the di ease:

Norway, Herkimer co., February, 1850.

S, F. Benaett & Co.—Gents: It is with great pleasur that I write you about the very happy effect of you Yellew Dock and Sarsaparilla upon my son, who ha long been suffering under that dreadful, loathsome diease, Erysipeias, with which he was attacked in 1846 and was for several months attended by some of ou best physicians, who tried their skill perseveringly for five months, without any beneficial effects whatever the became reduced to a or refer skeleton. He had ulcer here months, without any beneficial effects whatever, the became reduced to a prifect skeleton. He had ulcers from his hip down to his knee, which were continually discharging offensive metter. Medical and surgical skill was baffled. Physicians, said that his case was hopeless—there could be nothing done to arrest those terrible gangrening ulcers. My neighbors and myself thought his dissolution near at hand. One of my neighbors, who had cured a child of scrolula with your invaluable medicine, wished me to make a trial of it and more form. had cured a child of scrofula with your invaluable me line, wished me to make a trial of it, and more for om any hope of ge'tting relief, I procured three bottle f your "Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla," and com mored using it, and to my astonishment he commenced improve before he had used the third bottle, and be ehe had used half a dozen bottles he could walk out. sed in all twelve bottles during the year '49, and by october last he was perfectly restored; every vestige of the disease except the scars was removed, and he remains in perfect health up to the present time. His recovery, under the blessings of God, is entirely owing to the use of your Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla, and I assure you that I feel myself under great obligations to you, and it is with great joy that I inform you of what your Sarsaparilla has done for my son.

Respectfully,

JAMES RUSSEL.

TRUSSES.

MARSH'S LATE IMPROVED SELF ADJUSTING TRUSS—the embodiment of ingenaity, Skill and science are beau-ituly blended in this useful instrument, admirably adap-ing itself to the different movements and positions of ting itself to the different movements and positions of the body. Its perfect action and certain pressure at all times and under all circumstances, gives to the wearer that confidence in his safety so necessary to his happiness. The instrument is neat and compact, dispensing wholly with straps and buckles, leaving the wearer a free use of his limbs, he becomes unconscious of its presence, and pleased with its relief, continues to wear it a few months, when a cure is permanently effected.

Also, MARSH & CO.'S ABDOMINA L SUPPORTERS, of various patterns; one of which claims especial attention, as it is worn with much comparative comfort to that of others, being so constructed as to give a uniform support to the Back and Abdornen, doing away with the steel spring, so annoying to the wearer. The above auticle will be found of great benefit to persons afflicted with pain in the back and sicies, inability to be upon their feet for any length of time, which arses from a displacement of parts that are re adily restored by timely application of a properly constructed instrument. timely application of a properly constructed instrument

FRANKFORT, Dec. 27, 1851. Messrs. Editors: No measure of any interest to the country has been acted on by the Legisature for several days. Indeed, I might go urther, and say that nothing has been done during the entire session for which the Commonwealth of Kentucky will feel under many bligations to her grave legislators. The constitutional session of sixty days is now nearly exhausted, and the work of the Legislature has but fairly commenced. There are reasons for this extraordinary delay. The entire attention of the great whig party-the party of the maority in the Legislature-has been directed to far more important matters than legislation. OWEN & WOOD, WHOLESALE AND RETAIL DRAL-RRS in BOOTS, SHOES, and BRO-GANS, No. 495 Market street, one door

And there we sat in positions charac teristic of our notions. Mortier, of course, had his cigar. I believe Kuhner was composing a waltz, he looked so abstracted; while Morley and I were illustrating the saying, "The English believe a chair to be a quadruped, Americans a biped." I do not know of what they were thinking; I was wondering if there would be any pretty girls at D-, how to get introduced, before or at the ball, &c, &c, &c., when Kuhner exclaimed-

'Chauncey'-he called me by my middle name-'how do you think the profits will stand at D-, after two nights' performances?

'Finely,' said I-'finely.'

'Right,' answered Will. 'There are eight hundred visitors, according to the last accounts. They must be dying for amusement. Say half of them will come is that unreasonable?'

'Not at seventy-five cents,' said Morley; for we had fixed our price at that. You need not expect four hundred at seventy-five cents.'

'Shall we reduce it?' asked I.

'No,' vociferated Mortier; 'I will not perform for fifty cents! They will think us more aristocratic if we charge much.' 'Well, say three hundred,' resumed Kuhner; 'and even,' added he, in a low voice, 'to be perfectly within bounds, at fifty cents, and three hundred a night: that makes three hundred dollars gross receipts."

'Just so,' said I. 'And fifty dollars will cover all possible expenses, bills, programmes and all, will it not?' looking at Morley.

Morley nodded.

"I tell you what I will do, Chauncey," said Will Kuhner, "I will insure you fifty dollars for your share of the profits DEALERS IN CUTLERY AND HARDWARE, at the Springs, if you will give me all

'Make me that offer,' said Morley. 'No,' returned he; 'one is enough. offer that to Chauncey.'

'Seriously?' asked I. 'Seriously.'

I laid it over and over in my brain recollected our last rehearsal, which was pronounced by our select little audience to be splendid; thought of the likelihood of having an increased number the second night, if we came off with eclat the first; and deliberately refused it.

'I will take seventy dollars,' said I 'and nothing less.'

But here the bell, interrupting, called us to an early tea; and, soon after, we were put on shore. An omnibus shortly appeared, and, having committed our luggage to a baggage-car, with the exception of the sacred violin of our M. Français, we drove off, up-hillward.

An hour's slow dragging along gave us ample time to think how to make our appearance at the far-famed Dsprings. It was agreed that those who did not appear to appreciate themselves of would not be thought much of by others; and therefore it was necessary to put on an air of modest worth, try to look as aristocratical and as much at ease as possible in any situations into which we might happen to fall, and, above all, not to be too much elated by our success, and to take it as perfectly matter of course. Mortier must promenade the most fashionable resorts several times during the day; for those mustache and imperial !-- they alone would be worth to us forty or fifty dollars. But stop; we have arrived.

We stepped from the omnibus, fully impressed with the importance of maintaining our dignity, and walked slowly towards the main buildings. These were situated on the top of a pretty large and high hill, while other smaller cottages stretched in two rows along down the slope, and also faced the first upon the lower grounds. Others were scattered irregularly around, more or less distant. Parties of ladies and gentle. Foreign and Domestic Hardware men, or of both, were to be seen at their ease, walking, sitting, reclining here and there; from one shady spot were heard the soft notes of a guitar, accompanying some fair songstress; from another, the merry peal of childhood's laugh; a third was redolent with the aroma of cigars. On the whole, the appearance was very prepossessing, and D---- Springs promised to be a very agreeable place. Amid these scenes, we passed on to the main piazza, where Kuhner and Morley stopped for a moment, while Mortier and myself went into the office and registered our names. As soon as we could obtain the ear of mine host, who bore the exceeding rare cognomen of Smith (I do not recollect whether his Christian name was John or dot), we stated the object of our visit to the Spring, and de. sire to give a concert there the following evening.

He was a cool, calculating man. Smith was, and surveyed us all for a little time (the other two had joined us), as if judging what sort of a concert we would give. We spoke of it, however, as a COPPER, TIN, & SHEET IRON WARE perfectly customary thing; none of us looked at all abashed; and, finally, a glance at Mortier's mustache and imperial carried the day, and he answered-

·We have a very fine large ball-room you can use. There is a fancy ball there to-night, and dancing every evening; but can be set aside for your concert on to-morrow.'

'What kind of a piano have you?' asked Kuhner.

'You shall see in a moment,' returned

Mr. Smith; 'a very excellent one.' Morley asked to be shown the ballroom. At that, he led us to the second story, and ushered us into quite a large, well-aired apartment, opening on one side and end upon an outer, on the other just before supper. All these preparations I will see attended to myself." [To be continued]
